

HURRICANE HITS FLORIDA: FEAR FOR HUNDREDS

LEAGUE WILL FIZZLE TRAIL TO GET PEACE

Council Session Will Become Face-Saving Fiasco

London, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Two incidents heightened in diplomatic quarters today the belief that the League of Nations Council session opening in Geneva tomorrow is doomed to fizzle into a face-saving fiasco similar to the 1932 session on the Lytton commission's investigations in Manchoukuo.

The first of these incidents was a growing belief that Premier Laval of France had secretly guaranteed Mussolini a free hand in East Africa.

The second was the last-hour blow dealt by the so-called "Rickett affair" giving Ethiopian oil concessions to an American corporation.

Extreme Pessimism

These circumstances created extreme pessimism in British circles regarding the chances of Anthony Eden, British Minister for League affairs, to obtain united action for blocking an Italo-Ethiopian war.

This was evidenced in Paris yesterday, when Eden failed to win Laval to his version of the failure of the tri-power conference. Laval told the British negotiator that France was determined to avoid sanctions and to retain the friendship of Italy.

Barring unexpected developments, therefore, diplomatic quarters are convinced that the league session will see Great Britain's announcement of its complete readiness to abide by the solemn obligations under the covenant countered by passes from the rest of the council members seated around the table.

BOTH WHITEWASHED

Paris, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Italo-Ethiopian conciliation commission today reached a unanimous decision holding that neither Ethiopians nor Italians were responsible for last December's skirmish at the frontier town of Ualual.

An authoritative source disclosed that not only were both nations given a clean bill concerning the Ualual affair but the neutral, Italian and Ethiopia commissioners decided that neither nation was responsible for subsequent events.

The Ethiopians regarded the decision as favorable.

The commission's conclusion awarded no damages and went so far as to relieve both sides of even moral responsibility.

At Secret Session

(A number of Italians and Ethiopians were slain last year in a clash at Ualual, on the border between Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland.)

The decision was said to have been reached at a final secret session of the committee ending at noon.

An authoritative source said: "The decision was unanimous."

The commission was made up of two representatives of Ethiopia, two of Italy, and a neutral, Dr. Nicholas Socrates Politis of Greece.)

The exact terms of the reported decision, it was said, would be withheld until the countries concerned announce them. It was indicated the decision might not be clear cut, as it was described as "a matter of interpretation."

HAILE'S TROOPS MOVE

Addis Ababa, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The vanguard of 20,000 picked Ethiopian troops ordered to the eastern frontier entrained today at the capital.

The vanguard was made up of 700 soldiers under the command of Gen. Habuta Mikael, for years personal bodyguard of Emperor Haile Selassie.

The detachment is on its way to the field base at Ogaden. It is to pick up other soldiers en route, proceeding from Deridawa to Harrare and Ogaden in American motor trucks.

The emperor was reported already to have 75,000 troops in the front lines and 50,000 in reserve in the eastern sector.

Count Maurice de Roquefeuille, prominent French promoter, has been arrested for alleged espionage for Italy, it was reported today from Harrar.

Caused Sensation

Arrested with him, the report stated, were his French wife, an Ethiopian clerk and an Italian Maltese priest. The arrests caused a sensation as Roquefeuille is well known through many years of residence in Ethiopia.

Rattlers Objected

Chicago, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Anti-snakebite injections today were credited with saving the life of Charles Kaplan, Chicago, senior in the University of Illinois zoology department, after he had been bitten by a rattlesnake.

Kaplan secured three rattlers near Elgin and was preparing to preserve them in alcohol when one struck him on the right index finger. Serum injections were made and he was taken to a hospital for observation. Today he was reported as "doing well."

GEOLOGIST HAS DISAPPEARED IN WESTERN STATE

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 3.—(AP)—New Mexico state police joined today in the widening search for Joseph W. Ady, Jr., 53, geologist and capitalist of national repute, who vanished four days ago while dressing for dinner.

New Mexico officers entered the hunt launched by Inspector I. B. Bruce when it was learned that Ady had planned a trip to Hopeville, N. M., this week. Search also extended to Arizona on the theory that Ady might have gone to inspect mining properties between Clifton and Morienc.

Bruce scouted both possibilities, however, pointing out that Ady had been in ill health and that his heart would not permit him to make long trips alone.

Conferences with associates of Ady, Bruce said, failed to disclose anyone who had seen the man since he failed to answer his wife's second call to dinner about 6:30 P. M. Friday, after responding to the first call.

Prominent Chicago Preacher is Called

Greensboro, Vt., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Rev. Alfred H. Barr, 67, prominent Presbyterian clergyman of Chicago, died last night at his summer home here following a cerebral hemorrhage.

Rev. Dr. Barr was a native of Geneseo, Ill. He attended Princeton university and was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry after completing his theological studies at the Princeton Seminary in 1896. His first pastorate was in Detroit. From 1911 until 1923 he was pastor of First Presbyterian church, Baltimore.

During the period of his Baltimore pastorate, Rev. Dr. Barr served as director of Princeton Theological Seminary. He was a member of the Archaeological Institute and the Clio Society of Princeton.

Depredations During Night at High School

The Dixon high school was entered some time during the night and considerable damage done. Police today were conducting an investigation into the depredation. Four panes of glass in the building were shattered and three sets of drawing instruments were stolen from the manual training department. The value of the stolen property was reported to be less than $10.

A window in the north side of the building was broken to gain entrance to the building, entering the manual training department. A brace and bit was obtained from the work room and this was used in boring holes in a cabinet in which keys were kept. Master keys were obtained and the desk of D. C. Austin, manual training instructor, was ransacked and the drawing tools taken. The intruders visited the office of A. C. Bowlers and left the building by shattering another glass in the gallery of the gymnasium.

Florida National Guardsmen on Riot Duty After Election Fight Results in Wounding of Police

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Three city firemen and a special policeman were shot and slightly wounded as rioting broke out today at several polling places in one of the most heated municipal elections on record here.

Adj. Gen. Vivian Collins ordered between 250 and 300 troopers of the 115th Field Artillery to report to seven of the city's 29 precincts to "suppress rioting." After Sheriff W. C. Spencer reported the situation was getting out of control.

Two political factions, one with the backing of the county organization, and the other the city machine, have waged a bitter campaign in the mayoralty race. Mayor R. E. L. Chancey, with the support of the city organization, is seeking reelection over former Mayor D. B. McKay, who asked the voters to return him for his fifth term.

650 VETERANS UNREPORTED AFTER STORM

Southern Part of Florida in Path of Wild Winds Last Night

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 3.—(AP)—A blanket of isolation still lay today over most of the territory traversed by the Bahaman storm in its furious passage over the Florida keys and the extreme southwest coast.

As the disturbance moved into the Gulf of Mexico near Everglades City this morning, nothing had been heard of the welfare of some 650 war veterans housed in highway construction camps on the Matecumbe keys.

Railway officials who dispatched a special train into the area to evacuate the men last night learned from an American Legion survey party the special had been halted by falling trees when 17 miles north of its goal. A wreck train went south from Miami today.

Considerable damage to citrus fruit was reported from the rich Homestead district south of Miami but estimates were lacking.

Many Keys Isolated

Key West remained in communication with the outside world by cable but the remainder of the keys was isolated. Advice from Key West said there was no damage there that the highest winds were 45 miles an hour.

The sparsely inhabited country of the southwest coast had been unable to report effects of the storm because the new communications in the area were disrupted. The highest wind velocities reported to the weather bureau before wires went down ranged from 60 to 65 miles an hour compared with 80 miles reported on sections of the keys last night.

Since the center of the storm apparently was moving northwestward through the Gulf, little more than shifting gales and squalls were expected along the west coast from Fort Myers northward.

BRADY, TEX., FLOODED

Brady, Texas, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Brady Creek, fed by a 10 inch overnight rain was rushing two feet deep through the business district of Brady today as rail feed steadily. The downpour started yesterday at 4 P. M.

CAMPBELL SETS NEW AUTO SPEED MARK THIS MORN

Britisher Drives Bluebird 299.875 Miles an Hour in Utah

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, England's man of super-speed, bettered his own world's record for land speed today on the salt beds of Utah with an average of 299.875 miles an hour.

Campbell sent his mighty Bluebird thundering through the measured mile on his second run in a slightly slower time than on his first trial.

On the opening dash he made the mile in 11.83 seconds for a speed of 304.311 miles an hour.

His average time for the measured mile was 12.005, compared to his former record, set last February at Daytona Beach, Fla., of 13.005.

On his second trip over the snow white expanse of salt, he was clocked in 12.18 seconds for the measured mile and his speed was 295.566 miles an hour.

The average of the two times brought him a new record, just a fraction under the goal of 300 miles an hour or five miles a minute he had set for himself.

His first run, in which he developed the most unbelievable speed of a fraction over 304 miles an hour, was made into the glare of the sun, with a slight favoring cross wind. On the second trip he was bucking the wind a bit, which, according to American Automobile Association officials, accounted for his slower speed.

The new record bettered by 23 miles an hour, the 276.816 miles per hour speed he reached only a few months ago.

The giant Bluebird roared over the hard salt bed apparently in perfect fashion. Guided by a black line oiled into the track, Sir Malcolm steered the six-ton juggernaut with hardly a sway.

Near Plane Record. On his first run he came close to tying the United States airplane record of 304.98.

Keenly disappointed because he missed by fraction his cherished goal of 300 miles an hour, Sir Malcolm said he would make a second attempt at this mark tomorrow.

When informed of his average time today, after the second run, Sir Malcolm exclaimed bitterly: "For goodness sake; now I've got to go through it all again."

Pressed for a definite statement as to whether he would make a second attempt, Campbell declined to answer, saying "Don't bother me now; I am a bit upset."

On the second run, traveling southwest, Sir Malcolm experienced trouble that apparently slowed him up slightly. Half way through the measured mile, he said, he was driving blindly because steam and exhaust fumes flowed into the cockpit, because he had closed the ventilators on the front of the car. He was forced to open the shutter and was pelted by a stream of salt.

The farmer caused his arrest and delivery to the county jail.

FEARED HI-JACKERS

Chief Deputy Sheriff Gilbert Finch and Deputy Fred Richardson escorted a large truck load of sugar through Lee county Saturday afternoon, the owners fearing hi-jackers and appealing to the sheriff's office for protection. The sugar was being hauled from Chicago to Nebraska and it was stated that two previous cargoes had been hi-jacked between DeKalb and Chicago. Coming west Saturday, the sugar laden truck was escorted by state police and deputies from Cook county to the east Whiteside county lines.

Oregon Man Jailed After Auto Crash

Hale Jones of Oregon was arrested Monday afternoon by Sheriff Ward Miller following the crash of two automobiles east of the city on state highway, route 1, near the Cement plant curve. Jones and two other Oregon residents were coming toward Dixon and crashed into the rear of another machine also headed toward Dixon.

A charge of reckless driving was preferred against Jones before Justice Grover Gehant this morning and he was held to the September grand jury under bonds of $500, in default of which he was returned to the county jail. It is expected that the case would be certified into the county court to be heard before Judge Leach this week. Jones' two companions, who stated that they had recently been released from the state work farm at Vandalia, were released from custody this morning.

Happy Bride Forgot Her Jewels: Found

HOLIDAY DEATH TOLL LESS THAN COUNCIL GUESS

Fewer Than 300 Killed in Auto Fatalities Over Week-End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fewer than 300 automobile fatalities were recorded today in the United States during the triple Labor Day week end holiday.

The National Safety Council had predicted the death toll would mount to between 350 and 400, and described the week end as "death's favorite holiday."

Rain in many sections was one factor which tended to reduce the number of deaths, as drivers proceeded more cautiously than usual. The weather also helped to reduce the number of cars on the road, relieving congestion on many usually crowded roads.

Figures reported at 1 A. M. (Central Standard time) placed the death list at 283. No definite check could be made of the injured, but estimates placed the seriously hurt at more than 200.

Drownings Boost Toll

Deaths from drownings and other fatal accidents, not included in the automobile figures, also tended to swell the grand total.

Eight states and the District of Columbia had clean records, Arizona, Delaware, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nebraska, North and South Dakota reported no automobile fatalities.

California headed the list of states with the greatest number of deaths—33. New York was second with 24 and Illinois next with 21.

Three states, Missouri, Ohio and Pennsylvania, were fourth with 16 each. Michigan was in seventh place with 11 and Iowa and West Virginia followed with 10 each.

ILLINOIS TOLL 21

Chicago Sept. 3.—(AP)—A score of persons lost their lives during the Labor Day week end in Illinois as a result of automobile and other holiday accidents, the death toll standing at today with several others expected to die.

The majority of the automobile fatalities occurred in the Chicago area, where roads were jammed by thousands of motorists seeking a last outing of the summer season.

Deaths in the Chicago area since Sunday:

Mrs. Anna Johnson, 41, and her daughter, Eleanor, 11, killed when

New Deal in School

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 3.—(AP)—It was a question of the kindergarten teacher knowing her alphabet today.

The Morlok quadruplets started to school, and their mother, Mrs. Carl A. Morlok, sewed their initials on their dresses so their teacher could tell them apart.

The four girls, now five years and two months old, are Edna A.; Wilma B.; Sarah C.; and Helen D. They entered the Oak Park kindergarten school. Their father is a city constable.

SLEEP SICKNESS AFFECTS HORSES IN NEB. CITIES

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Dr. John S. Anderson, state veterinarian, today reported an outbreak of equine encephalomyelitis or horse sleeping sickness in Nebraska and horsemen quickly recalled ravages of the disease in Nebraska and Kansas in 1912 when thousands of horses died.

The veterinarian described the outbreak as comparatively serious, and said "this outbreak merits serious consideration."

"We are testing several heads to determine what action shall be taken," he added.

The disease was reported in widely scattered areas. It was noted at Tekamah, Exeter, Kenesaw, Harvard, Hyannis, Geneva and Mullen. The veterinarian said it is killing about 30 per cent of the horses it attacks. He urged farmers to keep horses free of flies, mosquitoes and other insects as much as possible.

Anderson said the disease is detected easily because the sick horse has a "crazy look." The head droops to one side and the animal does not seem to know where to place its feet. Horses, he said, often are blinded temporarily by the disease, but sight returns if they recover.

Woman Killed Monday in Strike Rioting

Pelzer, S. C., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Bright bayonets of National Guard troops had brought peace today to the embattled sectors of the strike-harassed Pelzer Manufacturing Company where a mother was killed yesterday and a score wounded in a gunfire barrage to the accompaniment of reverberating dynamite.

The two plants, closed yesterday after the rioting, opened today as usual at 6:30 A. M., without upward incident and with what Superintendent J. F. Blackmon said was a full force of 700 men. The mills, he said, normally employ 1400, working two shifts. There was no picketing.

Former Aurora Banker Will Get Parole

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 3.—(AP)—John L. Esser, one-time Aurora banker, convicted of embezzling $530,000, will be released from Joliet prison Oct. 6 on parole, a subcommittee of the state board of pardons and paroles announced today. Esser was convicted in 1927.

Since June 2, the committee said, nearly 80 warrants have been issued for parole violators through the offices of George T. Skully, superintendent of pardons.

In all, the committee planned to consider today 146 applications for parole, members said.

Completion of Reynolds Field and Page Drive as WPA Project Requested by Dixon Park Board

The Dixon park board has filed projects with the Works Progress Administration for the completion of Reynolds athletic field and the Page Drive, the total cost of which approximates $30,000. Information from Rockford today indicated that the project had been approved in the district office in that city and would be forwarded to the state office at Chicago for final action.

At the Reynolds athletic field the plans provide for the grading and seeding of a section which has not been improved, the widening of the roads surrounding the field from eight to sixteen feet in width, the construction of an eight foot woven wire fence about the entire field.

On the north side of the river, the project submitted by the park district provides for the completion of the Page Drive with a 30 foot roadway boulevard extending west along Rock River to the west end of the proposed drive where the roadway would be reduced to a 20 foot width from the river north to the intersection with the Lincoln Highway. This improvement contains plans for the construction of a bridge over the lagoon in Borden park with native stone and to be of an arch type.

LINER DIXIE ON REEF WITH 349 ON BOARD

Angry Sea Prevents Attempt to Remove Her Passengers

BULLETIN

Miami, Fla., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Tropical radio reported at 1 P. M. (CST.) today three ships were standing by the Morgan liner Dixie, hard aground on the north end of French Reef south of Miami, waiting to take off her 350 passengers and crew as soon as weather permitted.

(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press.)

Miami, Fla., Sept. 3.—The liner Limon, one of a fleet of vessels which groped through heavy haze in search of the steamship Dixie, pounding on a reef, reported early this afternoon that she had reached the side of the stricken ship.

"United Fruit Limon alongside S. S. Dixie now."

This message from Captain B. Holdt of the Limon was intercepted and relayed by the company's chief operator to the principal offices in New York.

Captain Holdt reported that the Dixie was pinned against the north end of French Reef, about 60 miles south of Miami. French Reef is about eight miles from the position on treacherous Carysfort Reef where the Dixie, carrying a crew of 120 and 229 passengers, was at first thought to have run aground.

Through Heavy Seas.

Several other rescue boats were engaged in the needle-in-the-haystack search, hampered by a post-

HONEYMOONERS ABOARD

Chicago, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Two Chicagoans on their honeymoon are aboard the liner Dixie, aground 50 miles south of Miami, Fla. They are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Weatherly, III, married Thursday. Mrs. Weatherly was graduated from the University of Chicago last June. Weatherly is the son of a wealthy publisher.

hurricane haze and laboring through heavy seas.

Because of the raging waters, the master of the Limon could not attempt to take off the stricken vessel's passengers.

Fears were expressed that the Dixie, a Morgan Line coastal ship, might be battered to pieces before moderation of the storm made possible transfer of her passengers.

Some of the passengers and members of the crew suffered minor injuries in the terrific beating sustained by the imprisoned ship. Captain E. W. Sundstrom of the Dixie wireless.

Poor Visibility.

A veritable squadron of ships—liners, tankers and coast guard cutters—groped anxiously in the vicinity. With visibility reduced to a minimum, they were compelled to depend solely upon garbled messages from the Dixie for their guidance.

The regular radio apparatus of the liner was disabled shortly after she struck the reef, about 60 miles south of here, early this morning. An emergency wireless set was put in use.

One of the rescue ships, the tanker Reaper, reported this morning she believed she was but a short distance from the Dixie. She could not see her, however, the skipper of the Reaper said.

Dangerous Region.

French Reef is in the heart of a region regarded by mariners as the Scylla and Charybdis of coastal vessels. Annually, the dangerous coral reefs claim small craft.

Sharks and swordfish infest the waters, marine guides say, and landing passengers from grounded vessels is always a dangerous undertaking.

Radiomarine intercepted a message sent from the Dixie saying: "Our position now off French Reef. Consider it to rough to transfer passengers."

BRUSHED FROM BRIDGE

Chicago, Sept. 3.—(AP)—James Hall, 40, of Streator, Ill., a bridge carpenter employed by the Santa Fe railroad, was brushed from a trestle by a locomotive and killed today. The accident occurred in the switching yards at W. Cermak Road and S. Canal St.

MISSING LIFE

By Joseph Fort Newton

"LIFE does not miss us," says Pearl Buck; "it is only we who can miss life if we narrow our knowledge of it and our interest in it."

The fear of missing life haunts us today, young and old alike. The sense of its being already, perhaps, too late for us to enjoy many things, makes youth hectic, middle life feverish, and old age resentful.

The feeling of the swift passage of time and the fleetingness of its joy has never been more vivid—it is almost a terror. Added to this is the loss, or lack, of faith in life to come beyond.

We are anxious to try every kind of experience because life, after all, is experience, and we do not want to miss it. We grasp at anything, everything as it passes, frantically, before it slips away.

It is a pathetic scramble, but all of us share it. We are aware of all sort of experiences we have not known, of possibilities closed to us, of many gifts left unused—and we feel we are cheated.

Old age comes before we know it, shutting many doors. We begin to realize how much we have missed of life by having been too busy, too blind, or perhaps too tame and timid, and we have a bitter grudge.

Are we missing anything? Yes, everyone is missing something of life, because it is not possible to have every experience. If we lived forever, lived to the full, many lives, we should miss much of life. Here is a fact hard to accept, but we must swallow it—one experience excludes another. We think that if we had time and money and strength we could have everything—but it is not true.

We cannot eat our cake and have it too. We cannot have the freedom of being unmarried and the joy of being married; we must choose our lot—and that excludes something else. There is no help for it.

We cannot be everything or do everything; we must select and find the richness and fullness of life in what we do. To snatch at everything will be to lose everything, and die without living at all. A man may be a beast, a butterfly or a man—he cannot be all three.

As Humming Bird

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—(AP)—If some buxom miss complains that she doesn't see how she's gained so much weight since she eats just like a humming bird, tell her this: Each of the 17 humming birds at the zoo here eats four times its weight in food daily.

Teach Honesty By Good Example

By Olive Roberts Barton

Honesty, like everything else that is to stick to mental ribs later life, simply has to be taught young.

There is a saying that nobody would be honest if he didn't have to be. This is wrong. Once certain restraints become habit, they stick. An honest man may break over sometime and do something unscrupulous or unethical, but be sure his conscience will bother him so much thereafter that one lesson is usually enough. More over, he will try to make amends. I have heard parents declare rather desperately that there was no use trying to drill honesty into children these days when the whole world seems to be crooked and it takes a crook to beat a crook. They aren't greatly to blame for feeling so, at that—there has been so much bitterness of soul among struggling millions who have found simple honesty unprofitable.

Cherish Sense of Honesty Yet they don't quite mean this. Ask such men and women if they would trade their innate sense of honesty and truthfulness for a moral blind spot. Brought face to face with values, almost to a person they would answer, "No." Actually, most people are proud of their virtues—or let us call them inhibitions—prouder than they realize. And most people are honest at heart.

In teaching a child honesty and truthfulness, there are no half measures. Evasion is not truth, neither is concealment.

Right here enters the question of punishment. When a child knows he will be whipped if he owns up to misbehavior, he will probably lie about it. Not only that, but he is altogether likely to learn the gentle art of connivance. Children are not naturally sly. They learn it.

Now comes the question of recompense, too. It is a mighty hard thing to teach young children that wrong costs a price and that the perpetrator of a wrong must expect to pay for it.

Children Judge Own Actions So what have we? Only the choice between encouraging the child to tell by not punishing, or discouraging him by getting out the rod?

It is not quite so hard as it seems, for after all, children have a sense of justice; and almost every time, they know, when they deserve to be put to bed, or denied something, or spanked. Furthermore, when relationships between parent and child are all they should be and the child knows that the parent looks into reasons and motives and weighs him fairly for what he is, he will usually come right out with his confession.

Children can have no adverse examples at home if they are to be upright themselves. Another factor is not to permit the slightest purloining of property, however small, or overlooking the smallest fib. Examine into reasons, that is sensible, of course, but never deliberately blink at the false act or untruthful word.

Second Reunion of Prairie Star on Its 99th Anniversary

Ashton—The 99th anniversary of the Prairie Star school in Lafayette township was fittingly observed Sunday with a large picnic and program in Hunt's grove which was attended by a large number of pupils, former pupils and teachers of the school district. An ideal summer day added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

While the picnic dinner was in progress, the guests enjoyed visiting after dinner before the program. Music was furnished by Faust H. Boyd with his loud speaker system. A speaker's program had been provided which was decked in the national colors. "Billy" Hoopes, Chana merchant, was the master of ceremonies, and the first number on the program was the singing of America. The invocation was offered by Rev. W. S. Sanford, pastor of the Washington Grove Christian Congregational church.

Boyd Orchestra Entertains

Instrumental music was played during the afternoon by the Boyd orchestra, composed of Faust H. Boyd, mandolin, Esther Boyd, ukulele, Ruth Boyd, string bass, and Ray Boyenga, guitar.

A welcome, "How Do You Do," song was sung by Misses Ruth and Esther Boyd. A group of five early students of the Prairie Star school occupied front seats in the audience and they were introduced by Mr. Hoopes. The five were Frank Hardesty, Mrs. Emma Hunt Wetzel, Mrs. H. W. Yates, Judge J. W. Watts and Andrew Coakley.

A reading was given by Ramona Bolthouse and Donna Marie and Patsy Jean Gilbert, great granddaughters of Edward Hardesty, aged 92, who is the oldest living pupil of the school, and who is now a patient in the Dixon hospital.

Judge Watts Talks

Judge James W. Watts was called upon to make an address. Two years ago Judge Watts resigned from the state board of law examiners, and gave up all public activities, owing to his advancing age and health, but could not resist the opportunity to speak at the reunion. He gave many reminiscences of the past and paid a fitting tribute to his friend and former pupil of the school, William A. Hunt.

Mrs. H. W. Yates read a poem and gave a history of the school, and mentioned the Lafayette flag which was made by the ladies of the township in 1856, and which has been used at all public and patriotic occasions in the township.

Burnell Henert entertained with whistling solos, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. George W. Henert, at the piano. Burnell also gave singing numbers, playing his own accompaniment on the guitar. Burnell gave some very fine numbers and he was heartily endorsed.

Read List of Teachers

A list of the teachers of the Prairie Star district was read by Mrs. Ralph Sanford. The history of the Lafayette flag was more definitely told in a paper read by Miss Margaret Deets.

Andrew Coakley gave a reading in which he recited all the names of the pupils in school at the time he attended.

The address of the afternoon was given by John A. Torrens, superintendent of the Ashton Public schools. Mr. Torrens, in speaking of the Prairie Star school paid a tribute to the early settlers of the district who realized the necessity of education, although they did not know what they were educating for. Mr. Torrens stated that 100 years meant much in the life of a school for only this spring was celebrated the 100th anniversary at Boston of the first high school in the United States.

Speaker Draws Comparisons

Mr. Torrens drew comparisons with 100 years ago and found many things just the same—the trees grow, the grass grows, the sun shines and it rains—but people have changed vastly. He saw no horses and buggies in the grove, it was only a short distance to a good gravel road, and only a mile or more to a cement state highway. Farm machinery has changed greatly and airplanes were quite common. He stated that people can hardly realize how they have progressed.

Mr. Torrens complimented the young people of the Prairie Star and other school districts of Lafayette who had attended Ashton high school and had a part in the school winning so many prizes and prominence.

As a school teacher he was used to asking questions, and as the youth of the country have new frontiers to cross, he asked three questions which gave much thought for reflection, the questions, being directed to the older folk of the audience.

"Are we preparing our grandchildren and great grandchildren for the great fight they must make along the moral, religious and social frontiers?" Mr. Torrens sprang to the defense of the younger generation stating that much of the criticism against them was unjustified. Religion was stressed in the home and church in the early day, and the lack of it today was not the fault of the younger folk. The young people today had nothing to do with the return of liquor, or had a vote in the manner of its regulation.

Question number two was, "Are we laying an economic foundation for our grandchildren?" He stated that we are now paying for past war indebtedness, and to hand down to the younger generation any further indebtedness we would be like hanging millstones around their necks.

The last question was "Are our young people being given an education to overcome the problems of the future?" The present day education is trying to prepare the young folk for the future just as did the pioneers of the Prairie Star school district.

Mr. Torrens' splendid address was warmly applauded when he closed, and was deeply appreciated by the large number of people present.

A poem written by Lyman Booth, oldest living teacher of the district was read by Miss Lois Wright. A solo by Miss Esther Boyd, and a talk by Rev. W. S. Sanford closed the program of the afternoon, the audience singing, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." There was a moment of silent prayer for those who have passed on before the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Sanford.

Preparations were made for the centennial of the school to be observed next year. The following were chosen for next year: Arthur C. Dugdale, general chairman; Clarence Hardesty, chairman for seating; Mrs. Fred Kurth, chairman of refreshments; J. W. Hoopes, chairman of music; Mrs. Bert Reed, secretary, and Rev. W. S. Sanford, chairman of the program.

U. S. DESIRES PEACE—BUT KEEPS POWDER DRY

The United States fleet having maneuvered extensively in the Pacific and the United States army having gone through its warlike paces in the Adirondacks, this summer might be recorded as the one in which Uncle Sam oiled up his squirrel rifle, whetted his bowie knife on his boot, and let the neighbors know that he was ready for anything anyone cared to start.

It looks, in other words, as if we have gone in for militarism in a big way. But the give-away—the straw that shows which way the wind really is blowing—was contributed not by the army and navy, but by Congress.

Right at the tail end of everything, Congress passed an unprecedented new wartime embargo law. It didn't go as far as it might have, but the law was unmistakably designed to keep the country out of war, and within certain limits it ought to be highly effective.

This pacific gesture, coming on the heels of the greatest double-barreled display of military and naval might we ever put on in peacetime, seems like a contradiction. As a matter of fact, it was not. This country is as fond of peace as it ever was... but the post-war years have at last taught it something.

Beginning in 1922, the United States government devoted a full 10 years to the cause of naval arms reduction. After the Washington treaty it scrapped the mightiest warships ever built. Thereafter it studiously refrained from building up to treaty limits, and it went to conference after conference in an effort to get naval limits down still farther.

All this went, as the saying goes, for Mr. Sweeney. The riveting hammers are clanging in shipyards all the way from Japan to Germany. And if, after all this wasted effort, Uncle Sam decides to exercise his fleet out beyond the Hawaiian somewhere—well, who can blame him?

And as for the army maneuvers... well, by superhuman effort we managed to get 36,000 soldiers counting National Guardsmen, in one spot at one time. And just as we were getting through with this display of military might, Italy put on her own war games and paraded an army of 500,000 men—as if to remind us that our army is a mere pigmy compared with the armies of the other great powers.

It would be foolish to say that this summer has seen the United States swinging toward militarism. That munitions embargo law is the real tip-off on how the nation feels about war.

The army and navy exercises were nothing more than common sense preparations for the unexpected.

A VIVID LESSON IN CRIME

Finding of the body of John Hamilton in a gravel pit near Oswego seems to write "finis" to the story of the Dillinger gang; and if there ever was a story which ought to dispel the glamour which is supposed to invest the lives of outlaws, this surely is the one.

It is hard to recall any outlaw gang which was as completely and ruthlessly crushed as the Dillinger mob. Dillinger was shot down in an alley, Pierpont was electrocuted, Nelson and Makley and Van Meter and heaven knows who else were killed by officers... and now, at the end, we get this picture of Hamilton, dying from gunshot wounds as the gang fled frantically from the law buried hastily in a gravel pit by the wayside as Nemesis closed in on the survivors.

It's a dark picture. Any impressionable youth who can study it and still feel that there is something gay and dashing about an outlaw's life ought to have his head examined.

$500,000 FOR A BOOK

It is hard to imagine even the most devoted book lover paying as much as $500,000 for one book—not an old book, valuable to collectors, but a brand-new publication just off the press, valuable solely for its narrative.

Yet that is the price which has been set for "The Mint," the last book written by the late Lawrence of Arabia. Ten copies will be published and offered at that figure.

There's a catch in it, of course. Lawrence wrote "The Mint" to express his bitterness of heart against some of the leading British statesmen who, he felt, had ruined his own work in Arabia. The book can't well be circulated until all these statesmen are dead. It is being published now to protect the copyright—and that $500,000 price tag is just to make certain that no one will buy it.

It is also, incidentally, a fine bit of advance press-agentry, against the time when the book is actually released to the public.

THEY'RE SURPRISED

News out of Washington says officials were surprised at the attitude of the Soviet socialists in their reply to the note from our department of state concerning violation of pledges of the Russians made in the event of our recognition of their government.

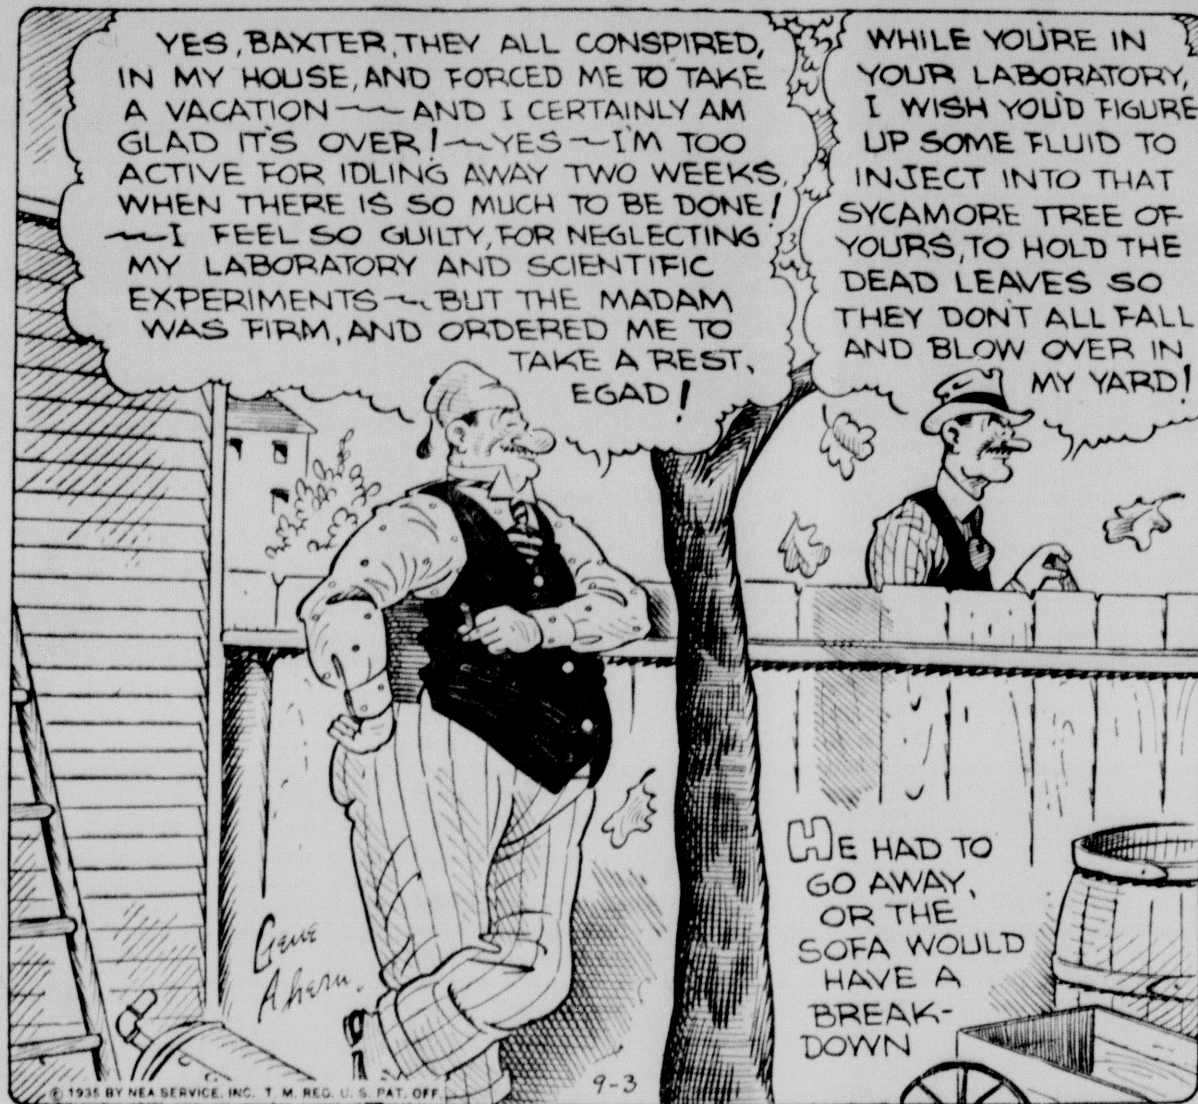

It's tough to be a diplomat and have to be surprised at something everybody else expected.

The answer is stereotyped. It's old stuff.

The case of the Soviet was accurately and fully stated by the socialist statesman who said that anybody who was credulous enough to take their statement also took the consequences, or words to that effect.

Presidents Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover, rather drab creatures, were not taken in. It was not until the smart politicians and clever dealers who also know how to do things with promises, arrived in Washington that we bought the gold brick.

VACATION ENDS FOR HUNDREDS DIXON'S YOUNG

Abbreviated Hours In School as Pupils are Assigned

Schools in Dixon opened this morning at 9 o'clock ending the summer vacation for hundreds of the city's youth.

Only preliminary sessions with abbreviated class hours were scheduled for today. School was dismissed at noon. The purpose of the shortened program was to take class rolls, make assignments and give out book lists. The students were expected to use the afternoon to purchase their equipment and will report tomorrow for regular class work at 8:45 A. M.

All students upon entering school on the morning of the first day, receive a guide sheet. This guide sheet directs them to the teacher who is to be their advisor during the year. The advisor then gives each student his program on the first day and acts during the year as a guide and advisor in school and extra-curricular activities.

All high school teachers with the exception of one have returned for the 1935-36 year. Miss Ada West, Keokuk, Iowa will replace Miss Irma Newman, mathematics instructor for the duration of one semester. Miss Newman will study at Madison, Wisconsin and will return at the end of the first term. The roster of high school teachers follows. Grade school positions will be announced later: Dorothy Armstrong, English. D. C. Austin, Manual Training. A. C. Bowers, Science. Edna Burnham, Mathematics. Olive Cotta, Home Economics. Science. Olga Enerath, English. B. J. Frazer, English. Edith Heinle, Mathematics, Library. Margaret Kling, Commercial. Camilla Kinsella, Commercial. Freya Lazier, Languages. C. B. Lindell, Social Science. W. S. McColley, Social Science. Ada West, Mathematics.

Ring up a Profit

With produce to sell it is easy for the farmer to ring up the local markets by telephone and search out the most profitable current prices quickly and at small cost. Often the sale itself may even be made over the telephone. The small amount that telephone service costs is thus more than repaid in convenience and saving of time. But the telephone means more to the farmer and his family than an aid in marketing. It keeps them in easy touch with neighbors, relatives and friends. It is the link which binds the community together socially. It affords protection in emergency—so important on the farm. Every farm should have a telephone—for profit, for its social value, for protection.

ROOSEVELT'S DES- TRUCTION OF OUR WEALTH IS CITED

Col. Teddy, Jr., Spoke at Great Rally Monday in Rockford

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, his assistants and several national administration policies underwent a heavy bombardment at the hands of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., before a three county Republican rally.

Speaking last night at a meeting sponsored by the Winnebago, Ogle and Boone county Republican organizations, Roosevelt said "more wealth has been destroyed by this administration than ever has been destroyed in the history of the world in a like period, except by war or pestilence."

He accused the president of seeking to establish a dictatorship and charged "Frankfurter, Cohen, Tugwell, Corcoran, et al." were seeking to substitute for the American government a "hybrid importation from Russia, Germany or Italy."

CONDEMNATION: PRAISE
Washington, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The politically minded sought today to read signs of the future from the tenor of Labor Day speeches which contained both praise and condemnation of the Roosevelt administration.

Leaders of organized labor generally applauded the social legislation enacted under the New Deal, assailed its opponents and expressed new hopes for the future. Administration foes, on the other hand, mounted platforms to unleash new attacks.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said in a Canton, Ohio, address that the basis for "a better social and economic order has been laid."

Labor's Worst Enemy
In contrast, Eugene Talmadge, Democratic governor of Georgia, described the administration as "the greatest enemy of labor." "When the policy of the government is to make jobs fewer," he asserted in a speech at Sioux Falls, S. D., "labor is the first to suffer. Talmadge's statement was made

CONCH SHELL

LONG, long ago, Parsuramen, the Triton of Hindu mythology called up the land of Travancore from the sea by blowing on the Sankha, or conch shell, and ever since, the conch has become the symbol of this Indian state.

But it is no ordinary conch shell. Hold up a conch shell with its head toward you and the cavity upwards, and you will find generally that the opening is toward the left. But if the cavity is on the right, it is the sacred conch shell of Travancore and an emblem of prosperity. Noble Hindu families treasure it and often mount it in gold and jewels. It is smaller than the normal shell and is called "Bala Muri Shunk" or "right side opening shell."

It is this conch shell that appears on many stamps of Travancore, a feudatory state on the extreme southwest coast of India. One such stamp is shown here.

FAMOUS SWIMMERS AGREE

Champion swimmers speak with authority when they discuss sound wind—healthy nerves—and Camels. Buster Crabbe, champion in the 400-meter free-style Olympic event, says: "I have smoked Camels for years. If you go in for sports at all, I'd advise Camels. You'll find, as I did, that Camels are so mild they never get your wind or cut your endurance."

What Buster Crabbe says is confirmed by Helene Madison; by Jane Fauntz, the Chicago girl who rose to Olympic fame; and by Stubby Kruger and Josephine McKim. So turn to Camels. Enjoy those costlier tobaccos in Camels' matchless blend. Smoke all you wish. Athletes say, "Camels don't disturb your nerves or wind."

OGLE PICNIC CALLED BEST ONE IN YEARS

Christianson Talk Met Favor With Many There

In spite of delayed threshing which limited the attendance, the Ogle County Farm Bureau picnic held at Oregon fair grounds, August 26th was a most enjoyable occasion with one of the best programs of any picnic yet held by the Farm Bureau, according to John D. Coffman, president; C. R. Bamberg, I. A. A. committee man; D. E. Warren, farm adviser, and many others who were present. The 4-H club show in connection with the picnic was one of the largest and probably the best from the standpoint of quality of projects of any exhibit yet made by the boys and girls in the 4-H clubs. The ball game between Ogle County Farm Bureau boys and the Carroll County Farm Bureau League team was unusually interesting and the score was 7 to 5, in favor of Ogle county.

Many persons commented upon the address given by Dr. J. O. Christianson of St. Paul, stating that they felt it was an unusually worth while address. Dr. Christianson is head of the Minnesota School of Agriculture, which is a department of the state university for farm young people. He believes that when the farm boys and girls can receive more definite training for future life as farmers that there will be an improvement in American agriculture, and that groups of people and nations succeed in proportion to the training and preparation of the individuals who compose these groups to take an active part as citizens. Dr. Christianson commended the Ogle County Farm Bureau for the work that the organization is doing to promote better farm life and closed his address by saying that agriculture must build itself with those individuals composing it, having loyalty and pride in their business and working toward an ideal in which all nations will flourish live under one flag, one Jehovah and with one aim, that of human welfare.

The boys and girls livestock exhibits were judged by John Weiss of Dixon, and L. V. Slothover of Ashton, the girls clothing exhibits by Mrs. A. W. Breckenridge of Rockford. Some of the premium winners were as follows: Champion beef calf—Roland Schoonhoven of Chana, exhibiting a Shorthorn; reserve champion, Max Stull, Polio, exhibiting a Hereford; first prize Angus, Robert Diehl, Mt. Morris; first prize dairy calf, Willis Cunningham, Polio; first prize dairy heifer, Raymond Pyse, Oregon; first prize dairy cow, Enos Schelling, Leat River.

In the pig classes, first prize single barrow for boys 14 and under—Lyle Brown, Polio; for boys 15 and over, Warren Blum, first prize champion; for pens of three barrows for boys 14 and under, Donald Unger, Polio, first; for boys 15 and over, Warren Blum, Polio, first. In the Duroc-Jersey gilt class, Jacob Jecklin of Polio won first and champion, Poland China gilts, John Williams, Lindenwood, first; Chester White gilts, Russell Carman, Polio, first; Duroc Jersey litters, Jacob Jecklin, Polio, first and champion; Poland China litters, Lyle Brown, Polio, first; Chester White litters, Russell Green, Polio, first.

In the girls club division exhibits of food and clothing, the Pine Creek Girls 4-H club exhibited a table set for lunch and though there was no competition, they easily deserved the blue ribbon. First prize winners in clothing articles exhibited were as follows: For first year beginning work, Janice Arnold, Oregon; Miriam Holmes, Lindenwood; Frances Braddy, Lindenwood; second year beginning work, Eleanor Carmichael, Rochelle, Winifred Braddy, Lindenwood; Elizabeth Reinte, Lindenwood; third year beginning work, Mary Williams, Lindenwood; first year advanced work, Jeannette Freeberg.

Royal Air Force headquarters at Ottawa have received more than 2000 inquiries regarding the Colonial and Dominions enlistment plan, since R. A. F. expansion plan, was authorized by the British government.

The material division, Army Air corps, announces that no more of the famous "Liberty" engines, widely used by Allied forces during the World War, are to be repaired or overhauled for re-use in army aircraft.

More than 21 per cent of the cars in use at the present time do not have four-wheel brakes.

AMBOY PUPILS TO EXHIBIT AT STUDENT FAIR

Vocational Aggies To Join Others With Calves

Boys of Amboy high school's agriculture class will attend with their instructor O. C. Holt, the fifth annual sectional fair of vocational students at the Oregon fair grounds, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6 and 7. Among the twenty-odd high school departments of agriculture exhibiting entries at the fair will be students of Dixon high school's vocational agriculture department of which John N. Weiss is instructor.

Several new departments of vocational agriculture have been added to high schools in this section making 25 in all, the largest number of departments in high schools of this section for the fifteen sections of the state. More than 200 boys showing different classes of livestock come in more than one class will be at the fair. Each boy is allowed to exhibit as many animals as he wishes so long as they belong to and are a part of the project he conducted this summer.

The better animals are shown at other fairs including the International Fat Stock show in Chicago and the boys are already preparing their animals for this fair and are putting on the finishing touches in preparing for showing them.

Parents and friends of 4-H work are urged to attend the Oregon vocational agriculture student fair and admission is free. About $1200 in cash prizes will be awarded winners in addition to ribbons for first, second, third, fourth, fifth and possibly more places.

STATE PRODUCTS PRICES DROPPED DURING AUGUST

Crops Improved By Favorable July Weather

Prices fell on twelve of the nineteen principal agricultural products produced by northwestern Illinois farmers during August, M. P. Roske, Carroll county farm adviser said last week.

Hay, apples, barley, oats, and chickens took the biggest drop while prices of lamb, wool, horses and potatoes rose slightly and wheat, butterfat, and milk cows held their own. The combined index of farm prices fell from 88 in June to 84 in July.

Combined production of corn, wheat and oats in Illinois for 1935 is estimated slightly more than 400,000,000 bushels compared with about half the amount in 1934 and a 500,000,000 average for the 11-year period 1921-1932.

The estimated 1935 production of corn is 71 per cent off the 1921-1932 average.

For wheat about 80 per cent of the 1921-33 table is indicated and for barley and hay, 20 and 115 per cent.

STERLING CORN PACK PROMISES EXCESS OF 1934

One of the largest corn packs in this history of the Sterling Food Products Co. canning factory in that city, is anticipated by Manager S. M. Barraclough.

Barraclough based his opinion on reports that golden bantam corn is yielding a fraction better than 97 per cent normal and evergreen and country gentleman doing fully as well. About 125,000 cases of yellow corn will be packed this fall which will bring the pack up to about 500,000 cases.

Golden bantam was completely packed a week ago Saturday. Evergreen started its trip through the cannery Wednesday last week and the country gentleman pack begins this week, totalling nearly a month of corn packing activity. Carrots and pumpkins will be canned as quickly as they are ready.

Intermediate landing fields of the federal airways system are available at all times for emergency landings and are also open for casual use by licensed airmen and aircraft, provided they comply with regulations governing their use.

Pilot balloon stations have been established by the U. S. Weather Bureau at 71 locations, mostly at airports, where periodic observations are taken of direction and velocity of the winds aloft at all flying levels.

In Europe, where scanty petroleum reserves make the price of alcohol as a motor fuel has shown considerable increase.

Byrd Expedition Cows at State Fair

It was 60 degrees below zero outside when this picture was taken in the cow barn at Little America—140 degrees colder than it was in Springfield when the three Byrd Antarctic Expedition Guernseys and their herdsman, Edgar J. Cox, arrived for the Illinois State Fair.

Farmers of Lee county who attended the Illinois State Fair at Springfield, saw the Byrd Antarctic Guernsey exhibit, according to Dement Schuler of the Home Lumber & Coal Co., who received data concerning construction of a unique barn built to house the animals in Little America.

The two hearty Guernsey cows and the young bull, Kiondike Iceberg, born in the Antarctic ice packs, were exhibited by Edgar J. Cox Byrd herdsman and ship's carpenter. With them was a quarter-size model of the barn used at Little America. "This barn," says Mr. Schuler, "should interest every farmer because it suggests ways of improving dairy barns in this country."

Cox's homely, dramatic story of how he brought the three animals safely through the Antarctic winter suggests that his pride is divided between the Guernseys and the barn he designed and built to protect them from 70 degrees-below zero cold.

As an ex-farmer he enjoys telling how the cows daily furnished a quart of fresh milk for every man at Little America, although many dairymen said cows could not survive at all. He smiles when small boys try to feed young Iceberg a fistful of grass, a feed the little bull never saw until it was over a year old and which is still not tempting. With some diffidence, he admits he helped convince leaders of the expedition that cows could be wintered in the Antarctic and tells how

Whiteside Fair Promises Good Animal Exhibit

Whiteside county anticipates one of its finest county fairs in recent years with indications pointing to an attractive exhibit of 4-H beef calves over 63 in all being prepared for the show.

A judge from the Chicago stock yards is being sought by the Whiteside farm bureau to judge the calves on the same basis as they would be sold at a Chicago market, and the best calves grouped into separate classes.

Beef calves will be shown in two groups according to the arrangement. Twenty-two boys and twenty-five calves comprise the first group and the second group consists of fourteen boys and fifteen home calves selected from Whiteside county herds.

Forecasts for airways are drawn up by 10 weather bureau forecast centers at Newark, Cleveland, Atlanta, Chicago, Kansas City, Dallas, Salt Lake City, Portland, Oakland, and Burbank, and transmitted over the communications network.

It is predicted that Vancouver will be brought within 15 hours of Montreal when the trans-Canada airway is completed within the next two years.

The frequencies which carry most of the energy in motor car noise are between 150 and 500 cycles.

CORN CROP IS HAMPERED BY COLD PERIOD

Crop Needs Warm Sunny Days, And Little Rain

Threshing in Lee county is virtually completed but cool weather with occasional threats of frost have worried farmers over the condition of the corn crop which got a late start due to excessive and prolonged spring rains.

Reports from various parts of Lee county have indicated that oats have averaged in yield around 45 to 50 bushels per acre. In Sublette and May townships oats around fifty bushels per acre were harvested by Andrew Bulfer. The yield there was reported after sixty acres of oats sown this year was harvested and threshed. Thirty-one pounds per bushel have been reported from some section while other yields have been fairly light.

Corn has been hampered by the premature slump in temperature resembling October rather than August weather conditions. Corn has been about ten days behind the average for this time of year despite its color and height and a month of favorable weather with a lot of sun would not do the crop any harm. If frosts hold off until October a bumper crop of corn in Lee county would be realized. Other sections in northern Illinois have reported traces of light frost. Near Belvidere in Boone county temperature as low as 38 degrees were reported last week.

OGLE MILK TEST REPORT ISSUED

The Ogle association's average in milk testing for the month of August was 701 pounds of milk, 25.43 pounds of fat with 329 cows on test from 17 herds. Thirty of the 329 cows on test were dry.

During the month 30 cows were sold to the butcher. Twenty-three animals reacted to a blood test and forty produced over 40 pounds of fat.

Richard Magee's high producing herd was the leader for August producing 922 pounds of milk and 31.97 pounds of fat. His herd of 6 purebred Holsteins was on good pasture and grain ration of corn and cob and ground oats.

Four other leading herds in production were Herbert Coffman's of 20 mixed cows averaging 823 pounds of milk and 31.06 pounds of butterfat, John Cunningham's herd of 11 purebred Holsteins averaging 867 pounds of milk and 31.05 pounds of butterfat and J. W. Hemmings' herd of 12 purebred Holsteins with 724 lbs. milk and 38.59 lbs. butterfat as an average.

Due to the large increase in airmail, twice-a-week plane service between England and Australia is contemplated. One trip weekly is made now.

Motor vehicle deaths in the United States were reduced 24 per cent during the first six months of this year.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER TO POULTRY RAISERS

It's not often you have been able to pay for your feed and have as much left from your poultry check as you have today.

You can get a good price for chickens. And, generally speaking, there is plenty of feed for them, the weather is cooler, and there is more moisture. So conditions are ideal for the production of good poultry.

People are eating a lot of both chickens and eggs. You can understand why when you realize that there are fewer hogs on the farms today than there have been for fifty years and that from Jan. 1, 1934, to Jan. 1, 1935, the number of head of livestock in the country was reduced twenty-seven million.

That's why people are eating more chicken. The entire industry is in as good condition as I have ever seen it.

Increase Size of Flocks

I understand that people are pleased with the price they are getting for chickens and that many are planning to increase the size of their flocks next year.

That is wise. It takes several years to bring the supply of beef back to normal. The supply of pork can be increased rapidly, but not so rapidly as the supply of poultry.

So the next two or three years certainly offer an opportunity for you to make some money.

Poultry has always been considered a luxury.

If you can produce it for less money, it may take the place of the larger meat animals to some extent. The quality of the poultry produced will also have a lot to do with whether people continue to use more of it.

This is your chance—and I'm going to be interested to see whether you start right in to make something of it by feeding your hens for egg production this fall.

Sincerely yours,

Frank Priebe

4-H CLUB BOYS WON PRIZES ON THEIR CALVES

Took The State Crown Fourth Straight Year at Fair

Lee county's 4-H club dairy calves won the state championship for the fourth consecutive year at the Illinois State Fair at Springfield two weeks ago.

The calves of the Holstein variety were entered by fifteen 4-H club youngsters of Lee county. Farm Adviser and Mrs. C. E. Yale acted as chaperons for the group who lived in their own tented city and were closely supervised.

The 4-H clubbers who made the trip were Donald Parsons, Charles Keigwin, Clifford Heaton and Marian Mau and Gale Stone of the Hamilton club, Orville Gerdes, Morris Buchman, Walter Boehle, Charles E. Yale, Jr., Thayne Wrigley of the Amboy club, and Harry Bulfer, Roland Becker, Vernon Becker, James Malach and Cletus Lauer of the Sublette club. Prizes won include the following: Holstein calf—Donald Parsons, 1st and 4th; Charles Keigwin, Walnut, 2nd and 12th; Walter Boehle, Amboy won 19th.

First year dairy—Harry Bulfer, Sublette, 1st. Cow class—Donald Parsons, Walnut, 1st.

Guernsey calf—Clifford Heaton, Walnut 4th; Maurice Buchman, Amboy, 11th; Chas. Yale, Jr., Amboy, 14th.

Guernsey yearling—Cletus Lauer, Sublette, 3rd; Maurice Buchman, Amboy, 9th.

The Lee County Guernseys also won second in district. Brown Swiss calf—Orville Gerdes, Dixon, 4th and 11th; Marian Mau, Harmon, 10th.

The Brown Swiss won 2nd in the district group also.

In the pig classes, Gale Stone won second with his litter of Durocs and 4th and 6th with his Duroc Gilt, Thayne Wrigley ranked 10th with his litter of Durocs and took 18th with his Duroc Gilt.

In the open class on Holstein calf, Donald Parsons was awarded second and also took second in the Illinois class. Charles Keigwin won twelfth in the open class on Holstein calf. Harry Bulfer won ninth place in the open class with his yearling Holstein heifer and took fifth in the Illinois class.

CATTLEMEN TO CONVENE SOON; U. OF ILLINOIS

Insection of More Than 200 Head To Be Permitted

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 3.—Because of the unusually large number of Illinois farmers who plan to market a good share of their prospective corn crop in the form of cattle this fall and winter, a record crowd is expected to attend the eighth annual meeting of Illinois beef cattle feeders September 13 at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, said H. P. Rusk, head of the animal husbandry department at the college.

Visitors at this year's meeting will have the opportunity to inspect more than 200 head of experimental cattle divided into 17 lots, no two of which have been fed exactly the same way, Rusk stated. The chief object of interest will be eight lots of yearling steers which have been furnishing daily information during the last seven months on the value of protein concentrates, bluegrass, pasture, corn silage and other feeds in producing choice market cattle.

Another point of interest will be the experiments which have indicated that an acre of soft corn properly stored and fed will produce as many pounds of gain on a steer as an acre of mature corn. This experiment has taken on added significance because of the late corn crop in many sections of the state and the prospects for a considerable amount of soft corn this fall.

The detailed program, which will include talks on the market situation both as to feeder cattle and fat steers is being arranged and will be announced by Rusk within the next few days.

NEW AAA PLANS PERMIT QUOTA REGULATIONS

Can Raise Or Lower Them On Imports Competing

The AAA amendments contain among other things, delegation of authority to the Secretary of Agriculture to raise or lower quotas of competing imports of farm products by as much as 50 per cent. If needed, this authority can be used to protect farmers who reduce acreage from foreign unbalancing of domestic prices, says the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Other highlights of the amendments of particular interest to Lee county farmers are: all present processing taxes and all adjustments of production contracts are legalized. No suit for recovery of processing taxes are permitted without evidence to the Internal Revenue Commissioner that the processor has absorbed the full tax. Injunction suits restraining the collection of processing taxes are allowed. The duties of the Secretary of Agriculture are "spelled out" to avoid any undue delegation of powers. The Interstate Commerce clause is reworded throughout the Act in line with Supreme Court wording.

One-third of all customs' receipts are made available for export subsidy or for financing control programs. Processing taxes at reduced rates are permitted during the life of present adjustment programs when prices go as high as 20 per cent above parity. Ten million dollars are appropriated for the control of cattle diseases this year, this being in addition to present funds for that purpose. Funds are made available from Works Relief appropriations to finance existing submarginal land options.

Instead of licenses, "orders" will be used to enforce marketing agreements; all canned fruits and canned vegetables, except asparagus and olives, are exempt from these "orders," which take the place of marketing agreements; these "orders" are permitted without the consent of handlers of farm products, if favored by two-thirds of the producers; books and records may be examined in connection with the execution of "orders"; except in the case of milk, minimum purchase price is not permitted in "orders." The ever-normal granary plan is authorized; processing tax-rates are set for rye and barley.

Until the president's signature is placed on the amendment, there will be little or no detailed information forthcoming. The impression is given, however, that now on, a cautious, sympathetic and business-like procedure will be followed in the administration of the amended Agricultural Adjustment Act.

A Dutch air line has inaugurated tourist trips covering approximately 20,000 miles in 41 days and passing over three continents and 22 countries.

will be announced by Rusk within the next few days.

How Italo-Ethiopian War Would Look if Conflict Were Fought in Midwest

Conquest of Huge Area of Towering Mountains and Fever Ridden Deserts is Task Facing Il Duce

By NEA Service

What a really big job Mussolini is biting off for himself if he undertakes war against Ethiopia is well shown by the accompanying map. Here the map of Ethiopia is placed, on top of that of the United States, both drawn to the same scale. You can see that it covers an area equal to the heart of the American mid-west.

The main Italian attacks in case of war are expected at about the places indicated by the arrows. The top one would likely come first. Here in the territory corresponding to southern Minnesota and Wisconsin (Eritrea), Italy already has gathered 100,000 soldiers.

Her first attack might logically sweep southward in the territory about Adowa (La Crosse, Wis.), where she suffered a bitter defeat at the hands of Menelik 40 years ago. Capture of this area would be especially sweet to Italy, because it would be revenge for that catastrophe.

Few Targets For Planes

But to advance far south on this line is very difficult, as the plateau begins near the border and the entire country is cut into a wildly mountainous region where guerrilla fighting would rule, and where bombing planes would be of comparatively small service, because there is nothing to bomb.

So it is likely that initial Italian victory in this area valuable as a morale stimulator, would soon be consolidated by digging in on lines far short of Lake Tsana.

Here the British have an interest, because this lake feeds the Blue Nile, source of irrigation for much of Egypt and India. British troops, especially Spahis, are reported assembling in the Sudan, corresponding to the Dakotas on the map.

Route Feasible for Tanks

A second wave of attack then might enter from the southeast, where the coastal plain of the United States corresponds on the map to Italian Somaliland. A force of about 50,000 Italian troops is already here, and many more could be brought around by water after a first victory in the north.

Ethiopia—laid on top of the United States... the size of the job Mussolini is taking on in case he sets out to conquer Ethiopia is shown here in American terms. Djibouti, only port for Ethiopia, corresponds with Chicago, and Addis Ababa, the capital and campaign objective, would fall at about Jefferson City, Mo., in the midst of a rugged plateau covering all Missouri and much of Iowa, Illinois, and Kansas.

Wal-Wal, coinciding with Asheville, N. C., is where frontier clashes already have occurred.

By this route the approach to the Ethiopian highlands around Addis Ababa and Lake Tsana is easier. With tanks, it is expected that Italian troops could sweep toward the interior for several hundred miles without serious opposition.

But here again the rough country begins, and the mountains begin to rise toward the 8000-foot level of Addis Ababa. And it is a long haul for even a motorized army from North Carolina to northern Missouri, a fair comparison, though the Ethiopian journey presents infinitely more difficulty. Italian troops may find that "It's a long way to Addis Ababa."

Difficulties Appalling

Imagine this vast territory, equal in size to the heart of the whole American midwest, with only a single railroad line, winding 487 miles to cover a distance equal to that from Chicago to Jefferson

City in mid-Missouri. Imagine a capital there, set high on a citadel-like plateau as large as all Missouri and much of Iowa, Illinois, and Kansas.

Then imagine bringing all the men and materials for such a campaign 3000 miles by sea (as far as we sent our men to France) and through a bottle-neck canal (Suez) of a country (Britain) which could shut it off at any time.

Imagine landing and training these men in a climate far hotter than anything known in the United States, and then sending them into a waterless and disease-ridden interior to drive hundreds of thousands of frenzied natives out of a rugged and mountainous plateau region.

Spanish veterans of the Riff and even American veterans of the Philippine Insurrection, will tell you it is no picnic.

Even considering the modern planes and motor equipment of the Italians, it is easy to see that Mussolini is biting at a sizable chunk if and when he launches on the conquest of Ethiopia.

successive seasons, 1929, 1930, and 1931 and Peden is the only coach in the history of the conference whose teams have ever made such a record.

It is generally known that Peden has been offered coaching positions in larger institutions. High school students of the state will be guests at the Ohio game.

Imports to Sweden must bear a stamp reading, "This is imported." The idea was instituted in an effort to help the "buy Swedish" campaign.

QUEEN ASTRID'S BODY INTERRED IN ROYAL CRYPT

Her Lonely King Walked Behind Casket: Royalty Also Marched

Brussels, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The body of Queen Astrid of the Belgians was interred today in the royal crypt at Laeken.

Tens of thousands watched as Astrid's lonely King, Leopold III, walked behind her coffin. Astrid died in his arms last Wednesday after the automobile he was driving plunged off a country road in Switzerland.

The King, his right arm in a sling and his side bandaged from a broken rib, followed the hearse from the palace where the body had been in state, to Ste. Gudule Cathedral, where only 18 months ago he attended the funeral of his father, King Albert.

Royalty Marched
Prince Carl of Sweden, Queen Astrid's father, walked to the right of Leopold. On the King's left was his brother, the Count of Flanders. Behind him walked the Duke of York, Great Britain's official representative, and other European royalty and dignitaries, all in uniform.

Officers of the royal household walked on each side of the hearse. Heads of the church, carrying a huge silver cross, and troops completed the procession.

The procession wound its way through the lined streets to the dolorous tolling of the bells of Ste. Gudule and the booming of a farewell salute of 33 guns.

Miners Add Sombreness

Outside of the palace gates as the hearse emerged from the grounds stood a group of miners giving the scene a more somber tone in their dress of blue overalls and handkerchiefs knotted about their necks and wearing black safety helmets. They comprised a special mine rescue party.

The state hearse was covered by a black and gold canopy bearing the crown and the royal coat of arms. It was drawn by eight black-draped horses led by grooms in black. On it rested a cushion bearing Queen Astrid's crown and her crimson and ermine robes of state. Over all was draped a black cloth.

Not until recently was a canopy placed over Omar Khayyam's tomb at Nishapur, India, although he has been dead since 1123. Admirers in other countries sought this recognition.

OHIO DEFEATED NAVY IN 1932; TO PLAY ILLINOIS

Peden Called One Of Best Coaches In The Country

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 3.—Don C. Peden, star Illinois halfback in his day, who brings his Ohio university football team to the Illinois stadium Sept. 28 for the opening game of the season, is generally regarded as one of the outstanding coaches of the nation.

Peden, a product of Kewanee, played under Zupke in 1920 and 1921 and was elected captain for 1922 but was ruled ineligible because he had competed on Lombard where he had been a "prep" student. Peden was also a crack outfielder on the Illinois nine.

After he was graduated in 1923 he became assistant coach at the Athens institution and was promoted to head coach in 1924. His teams in ten years have won 62, lost 18 and tied five games. They have scored 1850 points against 361 by opponents. High spots have been victories by a score of 14-0 over Navy in 1932 and by an 18-0 score over Indiana in 1929.

In 1929 Peden's Bobcats won all their nine games, scoring 306 points to 13 by their opponents. They gained 3010 yards on line plays. This team was one of the few in the nation that year to win every game it played.

In 1930 Ohio won eight games and tied one, scoring 262 points to 26 by their rivals. In 1931 Peden's boys won seven out of eight games scoring 172 points against 14 by their foes.

The Bobcats thus won the Buckeye conference championship three

LAST RITES FOR MRS. ICKES ARE PERFORMED TODAY

Former Member Illinois
House Killed in Accident Saturday

Chicago, Sept. 3—(AP)—Intimate friends, representatives of official Washington families and Illinois state officials today joined Secretary of the Interior Harold L.
Ickes and his family at the bier of his wife, Anna Wilmarth Ickes, to pay final homage.

At 2 P. M. (Central Standard time) they planned to gather in the Ickes family home in suburban Winnetka for funeral services. Later at a burial plot, the family intended to bid a private farewell to the wife and mother who died in an automobile accident 40 miles from Santa Fe, N. Mex., Saturday.

Mrs. Ickes' body came home this morning from the west where she was spending a vacation among southwestern Indians whom she knew well and called her friends.

From the east other members of the cabinet joined Mrs. Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, in a pilgrimage to pay their respects to a woman who carved a name for herself in public office and then retired to devote herself to her husband's career.

Cabinet Members
Members of the Ickes family said they had been informed Secretary of War and Mrs. George Dern, Secretary of Commerce and
Mrs. Daniel C. Roper, Postmaster
General James A. Farley and Harry
L. Hopkins, Federal relief administrator, would attend the funeral.
From her home in Des Moines, Mrs.
Henry A. Wallace, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture, sped eastward for the services.

Heading Illinois' delegation officials was Governor Henry Horner.

Speaker John P. Devine of the Illinois House, in which Mrs. Ickes served three terms, will head a group of legislators attending the funeral. They will include Benjamin Adamowski, Chicago, House
Democratic floor leader LeRoy M.
Green, Rockford, House minority leader; Mrs. Bernice Van Der Vries, who succeeded Mrs. Ickes in the legislature David E. Shanahan,
Chicago, former Speaker; Lottie
Holman O'Neill of Downers Grove, who served with Mrs. Ickes in the House; and James T. Burns of Kankakee.

St. Paul, Sept. 3—(AP)—William
Weaver and Myrtle Eaton, among
22 persons indicted in the $200-
000 Edward G. Bremer kidnaping, were held in the county jail here
today pending arraignment in federal district court.

Brought here late Monday by airplane by federal agents, following their capture Sunday on a chicken ranch near Allendale, Fla.,
the two were questioned about the
abduction and then jailed.

Weaver is charged with the actual kidnaping of the St. Paul banker January 17, 1934, and Mrs.
Eaton is accused of conspiracy.

Weaver and Mrs. Eaton had been living in Florida as Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Osborne. They had legally adopted a two-year-old baby
the first of the year and were known by neighbors as chicken
farmers.

In their house about two miles from Allendale, however, were found a half dozen guns, including a shotgun and two automatic pistols.

Two Still at Large
Arrest of Mrs. Eaton and Weaver leaves Alvin Karpis, long sought as public enemy No. 1, and Harry Campbell, his henchman, the only ones of importance in the Bremer case still at large.

Of the others indicted for the actual kidnaping, Harry Sawyer, former St. Paul bootlegger, is being held in jail here pending trial;
Arthur Barker, leader of the Barker-Karpis gang, is serving a life sentence; Elmer Farmer and

St. Paul, Sept. 3—(AP)—William
Weaver and Myrtle Eaton, among
22 persons indicted in the $200-
000 Edward G. Bremer kidnaping, were held in the county jail here
today pending arraignment in federal district court.

Brought here late Monday by
airplane by federal agents, following their capture Sunday on a
chicken ranch near Allendale, Fla.,
the two were questioned about the
abduction and then jailed.

Weaver is charged with the actual kidnaping of the St. Paul banker January 17, 1934, and Mrs.
Eaton is accused of conspiracy.

Weaver and Mrs. Eaton had been living in Florida as Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Osborne. They had legally adopted a two-year-old baby
the first of the year and were known by neighbors as chicken
farmers.

In their house about two miles
from Allendale, however, were found a half dozen guns, including a shotgun and two automatic pistols.

actual kidnaping, Harry Sawyer,
former St. Paul bootlegger, is be-

NOTRE DAME GRID SYSTEM TO BE REVISED

Layden's Problem Is Is The Line; Backs Are Good

(This is the first of a series of articles for afternoon papers on football prospects at leading universities and colleges for the 1935 season.)

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 3—(AP)—Elmer Layden has about decided he will have to take some liberties with the Notre Dame football system handed down by Knute Rockne this season.

Faced with as tough a schedule as any Irish squad has dared, and unexpectedly deprived of stars on whom he had counted, Layden contemplates further development of a "weak side" attack. Almost without exception Notre Dame's great teams of the past ran most of their plays to the right, with the left halfback carrying the ball.

Last year, however, when the orthodox attack failed to function consistently, Layden switched, shooting more plays to the left. The result was that a right halfback, George Melinkovich, did more running and less blocking and became the team's leading ground gainer and scorer. Layden's younger brother, Mike, as Melinkovich's first understudy came in for a share of the honors, and is likely to be even better this year.

Layden Pessimistic

Layden, although about as pessimistic as even coaches ever become, is not particularly worried over his backs. The line problem, however, has him guessing. Only Wayne Miller, an end, and tackle Joe Michuta, of the five linemen Layden had planned on, are back. Captain-elect Joe Sullivan died last March. Jack Robinson was declared ineligible for having played five minutes of a "B" team game in 1931. Bill Smith, a veteran guard, was lost through illness.

"We have good backs," Layden said, "but they can't get anywhere unless we can catch up the line. The loss of Sullivan, Robinson and Smith upset most of my plans."

"We not only lost a great tackle when Sullivan died, but our spark-plug, as well. We will have to find a new leader, which will be as hard as filling in the uncertain spots in the line."

The schedule: Sept. 28, Kansas at Notre Dame; Oct. 5, at Carnegie Tech Oct. 12, at Wisconsin; Oct. 19, Pittsburgh at Notre Dame; Oct. 26, Navy at Baltimore; Nov. 2, at Ohio State; Nov. 9, Northwestern at Notre Dame; Nov. 16, Army at New York; Nov. 23, Southern California at Notre Dame.

(Tomorrow: Southern California.)

Chicago Racing is Moved to Hawthorne

Chicago, Sept. 3—(AP)—Horses and horsemen moved over to Hawthorne from Lincoln Fields today to open a 29-day stand.

Chicago's oldest track will renew the Gold Cup after a year's lapse with $15,000 in added money. In addition to four stakes with an added value of $5,000 each. The minimum purse will be $1,000, the same as at the other major Chicago plants.

The first of the $5,000 races, the Chicago Sprint Handicap, will be decided Saturday, with another, the Hawthorne Handicap, on Sept. 14. The $5,000 added Juvenile Handicap will be run Sept. 21. The Gold Cup, in which Discovery, the handicap will champion, is expected to start, will be decided Sept. 28. The final day feature on Oct. 5 will be the Illinois Owners Handicap for the remaining $5,000 purse.

Passenger buses in 1934 accounted for approximately 13 billion passenger-miles.

SECOND ETHIOPIAN OIL CONCESSION REPORTED

New York Broker Claims He Has Agreement Consummated July 19

Djibouti, French Somaliland, Sept. 3—(AP)—Francis M. Rickett, British promoter who negotiated the Ethiopian oil concessions for an American corporation, said today on his arrival from Addis Ababa that the firm he represented was "100 per cent American."

"The agreement was signed Aug. 30 between the Ethiopian government and myself, acting on behalf of the African Exploration & Development Corporation," Rickett said. "The corporation is 100 per cent American."

Rickett flatly denied that any money had been paid to the Ethiopian government for the concession to finance the purchase of armaments, as is alleged in Europe.

"Not one penny will change hands until the corporation begins operations, as is the usual way between government and concessionaire," said Rickett.

Another contract? New York, Sept. 3—(AP)—Leo Chertok, New York broker who described himself as a sales representative of the E. I. DuPont Company in Russia, said today he was "fully prepared" to exercise his option on a 50-year concession on oil and mineral deposits in Ethiopia.

The concession, in the form of an agreement signed by Warneq C. Martin, Ethiopian envoy at London, and Chertok, was verified by the Ethiopian legation in London today.

Chertok declared that he "could deliver tomorrow" the $1,000,000 loan to the Ethiopian government for which the concession was given as security.

The agreement, signed July 19 at London, stipulates the money must be paid over within 90 days of the signing for the concession to be exercised.

Is Private Matter
Chertok said the "deal has absolutely no connection with the DuPont interests. It is a private matter, and I have secured the necessary capital from private individuals who wish their identities kept secret."

The details of the territories covered in the concession are in the hands of a business associate in London, Chertok said, but declared "they cover most all the spots where there is believed to be oil or precious metals."

Beside the DuPont company, Chertok displayed contracts to represent in Russia the Seagrave Manufacturing Company of Columbus, O., the National Meter Company of Brooklyn, and the Black & Clawson Company of Hamilton, O.

He declined to name a date on which the money would be paid over but said it would be "well within the 90 day option period."

After Howard Won Bendix Derby By 23 1-2 Seconds

Twenty-three and one-half seconds meant a difference of $2,000 to Benny Howard, veteran Chicago pilot, when his plane, "Mr. Mulligan," streaked across the finish line at Cleveland municipal airport that short space of time ahead of Col. Roscoe Turner, in a smashing climax to the 1935 Bendix Trophy Race. In this scene, Howard, center, is shown smilingly shaking hands with Col. Turner immediately after the latter's arrival, and before either knew that Howard had won the $4,500 first prize by flashing over the 2,046-mile Los Angeles-Cleveland course in 8 hours, 33 minutes and 16.3 seconds. In his Golden Weddell plane, Turner's elapsed time was 8 hours, 33 minutes, 39.8 seconds. He received $2,500. Vincent Bendix, donor of the prize, is the smiling gentleman at the right.

PERRY DOUBTS PARKER CAN BE DAVIS CUP ACE

Frankie Was Defeated In Straight Set Play Monday

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 3—(AP)—Frankie Parker succumbed to Fred Perry in straight sets yesterday in the men's national singles tennis championship and after-effects of his defeat are felt mostly by the U. S. Lawn Tennis association today.

Parker went down, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0, in a fourth-round match which saw the defending champion, peevish because he was made to play in a chill, wet atmosphere, go "all out" in the last two sets and give one of the finest exhibitions ever turned in here.

For two years Parker has been one of the association's bright young hopefuls. He's one of the youngest of the U. S. L. T. A. is counting on to wrest the international Davis Cup from England's Perry and "Bunny" Austin.

In Perry's opinion it is very doubtful if Parker will ever grow up to Cup stature.

Parker Needs Forehand
"I never heard of anybody who got to the top without a forehand," Perry said.

Parker wasn't expected to beat Perry, but he was counted on to make a better showing than he did. The only reason he gave Perry a run in the first set was because the champ was playing against his will and indifferent about the whole thing. When Perry bore down, Parker was just another load of cannon fodder.

Here and there over the West Side club's courts: Wilmer Allison, the top-seeded American, is puffed because the U. S. L. T. A. put him in the same half of the draw with Perry. As the country's No. 1 and last year's finalist, Allison feels he should have been put in the opposite half instead of Don Budge. Now the only chance the Texan has of winning the title is by beating Perry in the semi-final and then taking over Budge, who appears to have a cinch path to the title round.

Leading matches on today's program follows:

Men's Fourth Round
Allison vs. Gene Mako, Los Angeles.

Budge vs. John Van Ryn, Philadelphia.

Roderich Menzel, Czechoslovakia, vs. Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J.

Bryan M. Grant, Jr., Atlanta, Ga., vs. Wilbur Hess, Fort Worth, Tex.

Women's Third Round
Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, Calif., vs. Evelyn Dearman, England.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fry, Brooklyn, Mass., vs. Freda James, England.

Catherine Wolf, Elkhart, Ind., vs. Mrs. Phyllis Muford King, England.

LITTLE CLAIMS HE'LL PLAY IN 1991 IF ALIVE

Loves Golf; Says One Can't Quit It If One Likes It

St. Louis, Sept. 3—(AP)—In 1991, Lawson Little, then a doddering octogenarian, will be an entrant in the national amateur golf tournament, if, as he said today, "I can and they'll let me."

The 24-year-old Stanford University student, holder of both the British and U. S. amateur crowns, called golf "the game that gets into your blood and you want to go on and on."

"I don't see how Bobby Jones could ever have retired," he remarked. "I'm going to keep on playing in the amateur until I'm 80, if I can and they'll let me."

Yes, as can be seen from that, Little does not plan to turn professional. He has 18 more weeks of college and he says he will continue in the ranks of the unpaid golfers when he leaves school with a degree.

But to go back to the game's lure for the broad-shouldered youth, who will defend his national title at Cleveland Sept. 9-14.

"I don't know what it is," he said. "Golf is one of the toughest and most exacting of games. It's hard work and it's costly. You have to sacrifice a great deal of your time to practice, and yet you love it."

Despite that, Little admits he gets angry playing golf. Keeping his temper is what makes the sport so tough for him.

"That's the trouble with golf," he said. "It's the only major sport where a player can't give vent to his feelings."

Little paired with Tommy Armour yesterday to win an 18-hole low-ball match play exhibition, 4 and 3, from Johnny Manion and Joe Switzer, St. Louis Sunset Country club stars. He went out in 31 and returned in 36 for a round of 67, five below par.

Allegheny county, Pa., plans to expend $955,000 in improving its city-county airport.

CARDS SMOOTH PATH TO FLAG BY DOUBLE WIN

To Remain At Home for Remainder of Current Season

By ANDY CLARKE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Back in their own ballgame for the remainder of the season, those pennant-bent Cards are going to be hard to beat.

They threw the brothers Dean into the fray yesterday and emerged with a double triumph: over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3 and 4-1. Fresh off the road with no more swaying sleepers to think about, the fractious crew went to work with a will.

In the first game they came from behind in the ninth to tie the score and then battled along evenly until the sixteenth inning when Medwick doubled and came home on a single by Jim Collins. It was the only hit Collins got in the game.

Paul Dean, who entered the game in the tenth after Hallahan was retired for a pinch hitter, was credited with his 16th victory.

Dizzy recorded his 23rd win in the second game. It was a soft job for dusk halted the contest after the fifth inning.

The 25,000 fans who flocked to Fenway park saw 24 innings of baseball between the Boston Red Sox and the Washington Senators as the Sox took the first game 9-8 in 11 innings and the Senators won the second, 3-2 in 13 innings.

Jack Wilson, relief pitcher in the opener, clouted one into the center field bleachers in the 11th inning and accounted for the winning run.

Came From Behind
The Sox came from behind to knot the nightcap in the ninth. Kress hit a single to bring Myers in with the winning run in the 13th.

The Cubs and Cincinnati also split a double bill, Chicago taking the opener 3-1 and the Reds the second game, 4-2.

Billy Herman's hitting was the margin of victory in the first game. He collected a double, two singles and a sacrifice. Errors by Herman and Hartnett allowed the Reds to step away to a 3-0 lead off Bill Lee early in the second game.

The St. Louis Browns broke even in a double header with the Cleveland Indians, taking the first 4-1 and losing the nightcap 7-2.

Mel Harder slumped in the third inning of the first game to allow the Browns to score all of their runs and then retired 15 in a row. The Indians batted clear around in the third inning of the second game, driving Van Atta from the mound as four markers went up in their favor.

DeKalb Barbs To Launch Opening Football Drill

Fifty candidates are expected to report this afternoon at DeKalb high school for the opening football drill of the season, Coach James Trees indicated today.

Conference rules of the N. C. I. league forbids practices before September 1, but real practices did not get underway until today. Over 120 are expected to don uniforms before the week is over.

DeKalb can point to only four lettermen as a nucleus as its 1935 grid hope for a conference championship. A team of entirely reserve strength must be moulded. Captains of the team are Bill Terwilliger and Henry Hayes, the main pillars of the Barbs' team. Orville Mosher, a senior, has been named captain of the lightweights and will be the only senior on that squad.
